GDT International Reach

Delivering exceptional all over the world

Technology has made the world small. It is now simpler than ever for companies to expand beyond the confines of their local borders to do business in other countries. GDT has more than 150 key partners crossing over many technologies. Many of these can be sourced in country through GDT distribution and international depots.

GDT Global makes it possible for our customers to deploy new technologies outside the US while working with a single point of contact you already know and trust. We work with our customers to make certain the process is seamless as we navigate the many complications that can become critical to international success:

- Country specific laws
- Restricted technologies
- Value added & substitution tax regimes
- Foreign languages
- Customs processes

GDT is a truly global company with tax registered entities in the US, Canada, UK, Australia, Hong Kong, Singapore, India and Brazil. This localized presence allows GDT to provide in-country sourcing of hardware and services, along with billing in local currency without the hassle of timely, costly import/export operations.

GDT has strong relationships with international distribution partners such as Ingram Micro, Arrow, Tech Data and Avnet. Partnerships like these give GDT the ability and flexibility to provide in country warehousing and stock support services both short and long term.

GDT offers a variety of professional services worldwide, including network refreshes, structured cabling, configuration, staging and installation of hardware. GDT has successfully deployed these services for customers across various types of industries in Canada, UK, Germany, Hong Kong, Singapore, Tokyo, and Canada to name but a few.

The GDT Global Practice is comprised of subject-matter experts who are solely dedicated to supporting GDT's global customers across every time zone. GDT Global makes it possible for large service providers, data centers, retailers and manufacturing to expand their business quickly outside the US with one number to call! Global business is their business every day.
